SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1901.

FISSURES AND COMMON SENSE.

The people continue to gain confidence in the mineral resources of Washoe, which is not in the least surprising when more extended examination is made of the mineral deposits there are every where present. The late development made by Mr. Bell near to the surface line of the Wedekind claim tends to inspire confidence in those who have claims near to the Reno Star mine.

There seems to be an opinion among miners that the Reno Star is a water deposit in a cavity spherical or circular in form, which has been filled with a very rich deposit of silver-bearing matter. There should be no doubt about the correctness of the theory entertained respecting a water deposit in the Reno Star mine as all quartz ledges together with the minerals they contain are water deposits. The circular or spherical theory is not clear in a volcanic country such as surrounds Reno. The theory might have some weight in a limestone country, where large cavities were formed in the limestone when it was laid down, or were formed at some subsequent time by earth crust disturbance, but in the absence of the class of rocks where pot holes or cavities of different forms are found, there are no theories or facts that will support a pot hole formation.

The country the mine is in is surely volcanic, as all the rocks that make it up are volcanic of the most pronounced type. The granites at the summits of the higher hills, while they are classed in the general makeup of the earth as volcanic rocks, they are not of the class of rocks to which the term is usually applied in connection with mineral development in the basin. Mineral development in the basin is as a rule volcanic and there are no exceptions known, which favors a conclusion that there was a departure from the general rule when the Reno Star mine was formed.

In the absence of any exception to the rule of mineral deposit, the ledge theory should be received as the only logical mode of solution that can be applied to the Wedekind or Reno Star mine.

The writer is informed that all explorations made of the deposit confirm an extensive and very rich deposit of mineral bearing matter, which is sustained by the nature of the country it is in. The chief formation is highly mineralized volcanic porphyry that would yield in fissure form to strong pressure from volcanic depths. Pressure as nature surely declares from its language, is increased or modified by the weight of matter that causes pressure.

The readings given by nature in the country where the Reno Star mine is situated say that the developing force was strong and therefore active, as the action would equal the sustaining force. The weight connected with the action is truly indicated to have been unusual as the volcanic porphyries are highly mineralized, taking as they do the nature of country rocks.

The readings declare the presence of unusual force and weight when the extent of country subject to highly mineralized volcanic forces is taken into connection with force and weight. The writer is not making an effort to convince the community or any one in it that there is anything worth getting excited over near Reno in ore values. He is engaged in detailing a few of the readings he made many years ago of the rocks in the hills near to the town. There is not anything in rock or in mineral development more notable in the State in variety or in interest that has come under his observation, that equals in variety and interest furnished by the rocks and minerals in the hills that surround Truckee valley, more particularly on the north and northwest of the valley and in the vicinity of Steamboat.

Mineral development in precious metals takes a fissure or ledge form, which is explained by the regularity of formation when laid down. Contacts are frequent which have readily yielded to volcanic pressure and regular fissures in most parts of the country were made which were afterwards filled by means of the after, or closing, volcanic forces.

A regular fissure system prevails from Truckee valley almost to the summits of the hills, or till the granite and granites make an

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly, and enabling one to overcome habits of constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. tem disappears and chaos reigns in mineral development. There is not a rock system in all the hills mentioned more favorable to fissure formation than the system in which the Reno Star mine was developed. This system extends, with one or two exceptions, north and west of Reno Star from two to three miles. The ledges are deeply buried in many places by the decomposition of mineralized rocks above them. The presence of these highly mineralized rocks furnishes proof of the wealth there is in the edges where they are.

Nature tells nothing but the truth, and it is not necessary to place it under oath to get it from the records it has made. It declares to the face of the prospector and miner that mineral wealth is plentiful where he stands. Of the truth of the declaration he is satisfied from assays made of mineralized country rock. Nature has given him a clue that squarely tells him that there is a store house of wealth near to the place where he stands.

The miner has a duty he owes to himself, which is to exercise his common sense, which is usually plentiful among that class of men, which will tell him that there could not be such development of general wealth in a volcanic country without centralized veins, and what was the case was centralized there is a fissure filled to overflowing with precious metals.

STILL ANOTHER.
Why not in the Red Cross service, an act of humanity? Don't you see, S. P. C. A., which would mean a good deed, a good animal.

It is not uncommon to see over-worked, half-starved horses. Not very long, long ago, a poor horse was driven around to a city with blood dripping from its mouth. If Reno had a S. P. C. A., such things would not exist.

Another use for the money would be to buy another horse for the Fire Department. The present ones could be turned out to green pasture occasionally.

Lonely Homes

A home is never complete without children. Yet many homes are childless. Many wives are desolate for the lack of a child to love. Their lives are aimless—void of the high motives of motherhood. While barrenness is causing incalculable sadness and sorrow, it exists in most cases on account of some little female trouble, which Wine of Cardui would speedily set right. This pure Wine regulates the disordered female organs by building up the worn out nerves and regulating the menstrual flow. It restores the fallen womb to its proper place. By strengthening the generative organs, it makes pregnancy possible where barrenness exists. You can depend on it.

WINE OF CARDUI

Suffering women all over the land have been depending on it for twenty-five years. No more convincing proof can be given than the testimony of Mrs. Benson, who is only one of thousands of women to whom Wine of Cardui has brought a permanent cure. Many cases of miscarriage—that trouble which robs mothers of their hopes—have been avoided by timely use of the Wine. You are asked to try Wine of Cardui and Thadford's Black-Draught, its companion medicine. Nine out of ten cases of female trouble, barrenness included, yield to them. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Vanderhook, Ark., April 3, 1900.
Last May I had a miscarriage, which was followed by flooding. I read your almanac and my husband got me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and it stopped my flooding and restored my fallen womb to its place. Now I am cured after taking three bottles and have another to take which I got this morning. I am expecting to become a mother and Wine of Cardui will be my doctor.

THE REAL REASON

Why Reno Does Not Possess a Band Equal to Those of Sister Towns.

Editor Journal.—I read with considerable interest an article in Friday's morning's paper, entitled, "Reno Put to Shame."

I agree with you that it is a disgrace to this city that it does not possess a musical organization that could come into competition with the bands at Carson and Virginia. It is not that there is lack of musical talent in this town or that the players do not stand together. The fault lies with the business men of this city and the citizens in general.

Time and again have there been attempts made to perfect a band organization. The players have gone to considerable expense for instruments and music. They have practiced and at times have become proficient and well trained.

But what support have they received? In a vain effort to get a little money in the treasury wherewith to purchase music, they instituted a series of dances in the pavilion. Although the price of admission was small and the entertainment excellent, the boys were not patronized.

An attempt was made to build a band stand. Two of the musicians were carpenters and they volunteered to erect the stand without recompense. A subscription paper was passed around the town to get money enough to purchase the lumber. Five dollars was all that was raised.

Carson and Virginia merchants stand in and help the boys along, but Renos have always failed to come to time. Feeling that their services were unappreciated, the bands generally lasted mighty quick.

MUSICIAN.

VARSAITY DOINGS

Short Summing up of the Happenings up on the Hill of Learning.

There will be a tryout this afternoon at the University athletic grounds for the selection of the men who will meet the Stanford Varsity track team next Saturday. If the track is in good condition undoubtedly many records will be broken. Tryout at 2:30. Admission free and everybody invited.

The first rehearsal for the Shakespearean play "Much Ado About Nothing" will take place in the first part of next week. The students are taking great interest in this play and an excellent production is assured.

Don't forget the entertainment to be given by the Y. W. C. A. this evening in the gymnasium. Among other things a very clever farce will be put on. Everybody come. Admission ten cents.

For the past two days the senior mining class have been in Virginia City with Professor Wrinkle, doing some work in underground surveying. The junior geology class have visited Steamboat Springs. This work gives the students and cannot be equaled in any university in the United States.

THINKS CHAS. IS ALL RIGHT.

A Very Young Person strayed up into the Journal office last evening and glanced over a proof containing an announcement by one of the I. O. O. F. Looges. She saw the signature, "Charles H. Burke, N. G."

"You will have another libel suit on your hands tomorrow," the Young Person remarked, "for saying that Charlie Burke is no 'no good.' I'm sure that he is very good."

When the Young Person was informed that "N. G." was a title of honor, she adorned her innocent face with a beautiful wreath of smiles.

OFF FOR VIRGINNY.

There was an animated scene at the Y. & T. station yesterday afternoon when the local pulled out for the Comstock. About twenty members of Nevada Rebekah Lodge, No. 7, left for Virginia to attend the ceremonies by which the eighty-second anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship will be celebrated. All the grand officers will be present. The Renos will return at noon today.

A COMING EVENT.

A lecture will be delivered in the Congregational Church on the evening of May 9th by Rev. J. W. Lundy, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Stockton, Cal.

It will be illustrated by stereopticon views. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the St. Margaret's society. Admission 25 cents.

THE NEW GAME LAW

A Matter That Every Sportsman in Nevada is Interested in.

The following is a continuation of the "Thou Salt Nots" of the new game law.

To destroy, injure or remove the nest or eggs of any of the birds mentioned in this act at any time.

To use at any time a shot-gun of a larger calibre than that commonly designated as a number ten gauge.

Unlawful to kill at any time for two years deer or antelope.

Unlawful to sell or buy, transport or carry antelope or deer.

Unlawful to be in possession of any female deer or fawn, etc.

Unlawful to buy or sell the meat, skin, horns, carcass of any deer, antelope, elk, caribou, mountain sheep or goat.

Unlawful to use hounds.

(Exception to the provisions of this act is made when a permit is secured from the Governor to take the bird or animal for the purpose of propagation, domestication or scientific purposes.)

Unlawful to kill or hunt any beaver or otter before the first day of April, 1901.

Violation of this act is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $25 to $200, or imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. It shall be no defense in the prosecution for the violation of any of the provisions of this Act, that the animals or birds were taken or killed outside of the State.)

Transportation companies carrying the birds or animals protected by this law, dead or alive, are guilty of a misdemeanor. Half the amount of the fine collected is to go to the informer.

HOPKINS HAS GOOD BACKING

It is learned that a company has been formed in this city to work the Steamboat mine discovered by J. W. Hopkins. Capital to an almost unlimited extent has been placed in Mr. Hopkins' hands and his instructions are to find the rich deposit if it takes a leg.

The vein for which he is running assays $4557 in gold which is remarkably pure. Mr. Hopkins' backers are said to be General Turrittin, Senator Flanagan, M. Scheeline, R. S. Osborne and A. G. Fletcher. These gentlemen are all well fixed in this world's goods and are willing to take a chance. The Journal's best wish is that they will be amply rewarded for the money they expect to spend to uncover the latent treasures of old Washoe.

The Steamboat prop. is a gilt edged spec. and some day the world will know beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the Comstock has western extension after all. The old lode has already yielded $500,000,000 and who who knows but that Steamboat will supply the other half billion?

HOW TO TELL THEIR SEX.

The other day a Journal scribe was boring Ernest Bingham for a news item. At that moment a mahala with a papoose strapped to her back passed up the street.

"There's an item for you," said the newspaper man from Tuscarora. "Did you notice the diamond shaped ornamentation on the infant's basket. That indicates that it's a girl. If there was a succession of crooked lines woven in, it would prove that the papoose was a boy."

"When you have been on the turf as long as I have, you will be on to lots of little things like that which help fill up a paper."

INCORPORATION ELECTION.

It is probably news to most of the voters of Reno that there will be an election in a couple of days to decide whether or not the town will be incorporated. Little interest is being displayed in the matter. The vote will probably be light.

GOT IT BAD.

Elke has got the oil fever so bad that the Independent went to the extent of publishing the names of all the Elkes who go out to see the boring apparatus. Everybody in that section of the State has a show how to get his name in the papers.

YOUNG GIRL SUICIDES.

Gracie Tripp, a ten year old daughter of W. O. Tripp, formerly of Carson City, committed suicide Thursday at her home in Angel Camp. She drank carbolic acid.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION

A Correspondent Believes the Pursuit of an Ambulance a Good Idea.

And still they come. There is a variety of uses to which the Red Cross Society's kind donation of $250 may be put. A correspondent of the Journal suggested a public fountain. Another believed that if the sum was applied to the kindergarten building it would result in more good. A third writes as follows:

"In appropriating the Red Cross fund the general purpose of that humane society should be kept in mind. What would come nearer the Red Cross idea of help in emergencies than an investment of the money on hand in a good ambulance for use in connection with the county hospital."

There should be in Reno a public fountain; there should be generous and ample support of the kindergarten, but for the comfort of the sick and wounded there should be a good ambulance which might be purchased, in part at least, by the Red Cross fund.

PERSONAL MENTION

A Batch of Interesting Items by a Journal Correspondent.

Tom Litch and Charles Lane have returned from a visit to Beckwith.

Manager Rosenbaum of the Virginia Minstrels was a visitor to Reno yesterday and found time to drop into the Journal office.

Engineer Newby has returned from a professional trip to Verdi.

Sol Hilp is looking after his mining interests near Ely. He expects to be absent about a month.

Thomas Ford, a Nevada City attorney, arrived yesterday. He will look after Chas. B. Bell's interests in the injunction suit. His associate is W. A. Sleep of Grass Valley.

Thomas Saunders, who was injured in the wreck at Plumas Junction a few days ago, is recovering. He is already able to leave his bed.

MURDER CASE POSTPONED

The trial of Elmo Soso on the charge of murder was yesterday continued on motion of the defendant until May 22d. The defense proposes to establish proof of insanity.

District Attorney Pike objected to the continuance on the grounds that witnesses from California were being detained here at considerable expense.

The matter will be settled by taking depositions of these witnesses. It will take place Monday before Judge Currier, sitting as a magistrate.

INTERESTING PROCEEDINGS

The Bell-Wedekind Mining Suit Will Come Up for Hearing Today.

This morning the Wedekind-Bell case will come up in the District Court. The issue pending is one of more than usual interest. George Wedekind is suing Chas. B. Bell and associates to prevent them from removing ore from the lead encountered in a shaft on ground covered by the Reno Star mining claim and also by the Conroy patent.

This is alleged to be a portion of the lead which has its apex in the Reno Star claim proper and to be on the dip of the same. There is doubtless over a million dollars worth of ore, the ownership of which pends on the decision in this case.

The issue will be fought to a bitter end by both contestants and the outcome will establish a precedent in this and probably other States. There will doubtless be a large crowd in attendance upon the proceedings. Since the case came up everybody in Reno who is interested in mining (and who is not?) has been reading up the law on the subject and they will be naturally interested in the progress of the case.

PARTY BY THE C. A. G. S.

There were big doings last night at the Nevada Club. The attraction was a party by the C. A. G. S. This organization was celebrating its third birthday.

The event was an invitational one and the right sort of a crowd was present. Everybody knew everybody else and jollity was the order of the hour.

The C. A. G. S. is a mystical organization. No one outside of the membership knows what the magical letters indicate. It must be an all right name for that is the sort of outfit that belongs to it. In a day or two the society will give a stag party.
